The Endura Face Off Undead edition can be applied by an airbrush or brush and comes with the same well-known formula as our Standard Endura makeup/ink providing artists with extreme durability and instantaneous coverage. For more realistic and translucent effects the Endura Face Off Undead colors can be cut down with the all new Transluz without sacrificing the quality and consistency of the paint.

The Endura makeup provides exceptional wear ability and water resistance when used on human skin and it also holds extremely well when used on foam and silicon prosthetics. All ingredients are of a cosmetic grade and all colors are approved by the FDA. Endura UNDEAD can be easily removed with EBA's alcohol based VAPORE or with the alcohol free SKT-7 makeup moisturizing remover.

Endura Undead-Color Description The EBA Endura Undead Edition consists of over 20 different shades and pigments carefully blended to create 10 unique colors designed to create countless undead and dead special effects and characters including zombies, vampires, monsters, ghosts, witches, devils, dead flesh, venous blood, aged blood, rotting flesh, pale skin, etc.

The Vein Blood creates a realistic looking dark blood color with a purple undertone coming from the veins. This specific color of Endura was carefully produced to imitate shade of blood that created when there is an absence of oxygen in the blood. On the other hand, the Aged Blood is a perfect choice to use when looking to achieve dried/old blood effect with a slightly brown undertone. Pale Dead and Warm Grey can be used when looking for a base skin color with pale-light tone. The Pale Dead comes with a yellow- grey undertone while the Warm Grey provides light grey with a red undertone. Both colors can be altered, layered and blended with other colors to provide different tones. The Vein Tone is neither green nor blue and can be applied directly on the skin or under Endura SKT (skin tones) to provide realistic looking veins. To achieve bruises and contusions artists can use Bruise Purple that will provide a natural bruise tone with a deep purple undertone. Other colors including Night Swamp, Dirty Brown, Charcoal and Nicotine Stain can be used alone or blending/layered to create a countless number of characters and effects.
